

For Your Information

The Grünenthal Foundation's initiative to cover specific needs provides thalidomide affected people with financial support for measures that are necessary because of the individual person's handicap.

It focuses on measures related to mobility and changes to the living environment that are associated with the person's disability and that are not financed by other institutions (for example, health insurance companies, nursing care insurance, or the Thalidomide Trust).

To receive this support you must be recognised by the "Conterganstiftung für behinderte Menschen" in Germany or by a national institution that uses identical criteria (for example the Thalidomide Trust).

Please send the completed questionnaire to the address stated.

See questionnaire on the next page
